DANIEL FREEMAN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

QUALITY EDUCATION FOR ALL LEARNERS

www.freemanpublicschools.org

Freeman Staff and Families:

I write this message the day after one of my favorite nights of the school year. It was the final regular season basketball game of the season and senior night. Besides the games, a lot was going on at Freeman! Our local Teammates chapter sponsored a raffle and silent auction where over $2,000 was raised to support our mentoring program. The Freeman Teammates chapter currently has 65 members of the community who mentor a student at Freeman! The boys and girls basketball program hosted "Pack the Nest", with our coaches acquiring local sponsors to help purchase t-shirts for Freeman students who attended the game and hire a sports photographer and videographer to make a video celebrating the entire event. The Cheerleaders performed twice as they prepared for their upcoming state competition. Freeman Broadcasting students assisted in the production of the Striv streaming broadcast to make viewing from home possible. Thank you to our coaches, activity sponsors, and staff for helping to make this night a success. What is awesome to think about is that nights like this happen all the time at Freeman. The best part of the evening for me...hundreds of students, parents, families, and friends from our community coming together at our great school to cheer on our kids!

I wanted to give an update on the work that has occurred with the school board regarding potential construction projects. As you may know, Freeman held community input meetings this past fall to share the results of a facility study that was completed by Clark & Enersen. The facility study project was developed based on five identified priorities: Safe and Secure Entrances, Career and Technical Education, Kitchen, Cafeteria and Common Spaces, and Pre-School. At the January board meeting, the Board of Education authorized an agreement for architectural services with Clark & Enersen for initial design and pre-bond services. This would allow Clark & Enersen to develop a schematic design based on our project scope and help the Board of Education get a good estimate on projected costs. We look forward to working with Clark & Enersen as they develop these plans and sharing these results with our community.

The month of January has been filled with winter weather. I appreciate everyone's flexibility with the weather-related closures and delays. Some weather decisions are easier than others. I take these decisions very seriously and try to be as educated as possible regarding forecasts and road conditions before calling off or delaying school. The district builds three snow days into the calendar each school year, and we have already used four! As we continue through the second semester, we will keep a close eye on student instructional hours and adjust if needed. If you have not received phone or email notifications regarding these closures, please contact the office so we can make sure the information we have is correct. I will always strive to communicate quickly with families when weather-related closures are needed, understanding it can be difficult to make last-minute changes regarding getting kids to school.

Wednesday, January 31st is the 100th day of school at Freeman Public Schools. The 100th day of school marks a significant milestone and allows students and teachers (primarily elementary) to combine several curricular areas into a focused event. Make sure to ask your child what activities they did and what the 100th day of school means to them. As always, don't hesitate to get in touch with the school if you have any questions. Before we know it, spring will be here! I look forward to seeing our students do great things! Go Falcons!

From the 7-12 Principal, Mr. Cody Wallinger

At our secondary level assemblies in January, I shared with the students a social media post, our pediatrician once shared; “You will be forgotten in just four generations.”

While confusing void of any context, once the framework was established it quickly shifted to a rather profound idea to contemplate. The message that followed was thus:

A vast majority of Americans can’t tell you with certainty which war Woodrow Wilson was president during (3 generations ago) ...or who discovered DNA (2 generations ago).

Immortal actions live in history books and etched on the sides of buildings but their monumental contributions to history are just history.

Be the okayest tiny speck of dust you can for the tiny specks of dust that need you. You will be forgotten soon enough and that is OKAY. The way you treat your tiny specks of dust will live on long after you’re gone.

While I doubt this message was ever intended to be shared amongst a room full of 14-18-year-old girls and boys, I do believe there’s still power in what it’s saying. Especially, if we position ourselves to believe...I mean genuinely believe...that we ALL have an ability to make a positive impact. And that positive impact, within the levels of what we can control, is more than plenty.

A lot of times I find myself interacting with students who find themselves suffering from a sort of Superman complex. Shoot, I would even admit that there are many times I find myself struggling with this same fight. The subtle reminder this message delivers is that we don’t need to be everyone’s protagonist. Rather, our real legacy lies by shifting our energy to just being good people and taking care of those around us, within our means.

As we move into another chapter of this school year, may we do so by putting away all the falsehoods that tell us we need to be everything for everyone. The lie that convinces us we need to leave some great mark in the history books. Rather, let’s set a goal of being the okayest tiny speck of dust we can for those who love us the most. For I would argue, this is a goal that has an ability to produce the most perfect fruit, generations after we are gone.

A Successful TeamMates Night

January is National Mentoring month. We appreciate all that our TeamMates mentors do for our students, so Freeman Schools honored its 65 TeamMates mentors on January 23rd at the Freeman basketball games by hosting a TeamMates night. Freeman mentors and mentees were admitted free to the games. Mentors were honored on the court during half time of the boys' varsity game. The TeamMates Board of Directors supplied each mentor and mentee with a $3 ticket to use at the concession stand. The Board of Directors also set up a raffle table and silent auction, raising money for TeamMates scholarships for Freeman mentees. A raffle table was also set up at the Freeman Wrestling Invite on January 26. We can't thank our mentors enough for the time they give each week to meet with their mentees. We also wish to thank all the individuals and businesses who donated items for the raffles and silent auction. It was a successful evening that was accomplished because of the generosity of the Freeman community.

We wish to thank the following people who mentor at Freeman Public Schools:

Jenifer Albers, Tamara Ault, Sandi Baehr, Jenni Bernhardt, Todd Bohlmeier, Deziree Bredemeier, David Bredemeier, Steve Dean, Tracey Dean, Aaron Delhay, Laurie Dorn, Andrea Dorn, Nathan Dorn, Erin Dorn, Angie Dowding, Danelle Evers, Laura Fikar, Rita Fix, Jamie Fountain, Grant Francke, Laura Francke, Mary Gramann, Jennifer Griffeth, Andy Havelka, Tiffanie Havelka, Deb Ideus, Matt Ideus, Bill Jantzen, Kevin Keller, Holly Klein, Linda Kroese, Gary Kroese, Sarah Lempka, Daryl Meints, Teri Nieveen, Jay Nieveen, Jerod Nieveen, Stacie Nieveen, Nicole Oltman, Abby Othmer, Brian Otto, Aimee Parde, Doug Parde, Rodger Pella, Clarisa Podtburg, Kenny Reed, Kyle Ruse, Brett Sales, Chelsea Schaaf, Ashley Schlake, Sarah Schroeder, Lindsey Sedlacek, Erin Sieh, Meredith Smidt, Tanya Speth, Lisa Stanley, Tonia Tauke, Timary Vetrovsky, Jerod Vetrovsky, Peg Weber, Ryan Wiese, Bud Wingate, Nancy Wingate, Anna Wolken, and Jon Young.

Best Selling Author Aaron Reynolds Comes in April

Do you love Creepy Crayons or Creepy Carrots? How about Creepy Pair of Underwear? The titles may sound strange, but the books are quite popular among students and teachers. The books are written by Aaron Reynolds, a New York Times bestselling author of books for kids. We are fortunate to host Reynolds this April at Freeman! Reynolds will be at Freeman on April 26 and he will be presenting to our elementary students that morning. If you would like to order a book for autographing, please check out the included order form. Students will also receive a form at school. The book orders are due February 16.

Freeman Book Fair Hosted by Barnes & Noble February 29

There will be an additional opportunity to purchase Reynolds' books through Barnes & Noble on February 29. The South Pointe Barnes & Noble will be hosting a book fair for Freeman from 5-8:00 pm, with a percentage of purchases being returned to Freeman. Activities at the book fair that evening includes a Lego building station, Cryptquest, and a display of Freeman students' artwork. Guest story times will occur at 6:00pm and 7:00pm.

Please come out and support Freeman that evening!

*The Barnes & Noble book fair will replace the spring Scholastic Book Fair.

Aaron Reynolds

Aaron Reynolds is a #1 New York Times Bestselling Author of many highly acclaimed books for kids including CREEPY PAIR OF UNDERWEAR, DUDE!, THE INCREDIBLY DEAD PETS OF REX DEXTER, the Caldecott Honor Medalist CREEPY CARROTS!, and the epic fantasy series FART QUEST. He has a passion for kids' books and seeing kids reading them. H
